Orthodoxy in the World

(The following is an excerpt from a book by Metropolitan Emilianos Timiadis called Towards Authentic Christian Spirituality.)

We Orthodox must become more open to the world. We must create spaces of compassion, where lonely persons, the distressed and marginalized, can find comfort and healing. Who else will meet all those forgotten by our society if not the Church? There are no miracle solutions. Such healing can happen only through personal relationships and sympathetic contact with our fellow “images of God.”

Social structures do not exist apart from the human spirit. The harm of structures and systems comes from the destructive actions human beings commit through them when they refuse to cooperate with god for humanity’s welfare. St. John of Damascus remarks:

Evil is nothing but estrangement from the good. As long as we live a virtuous life, our being lives in accordance with our true nature. On the contrary, as soon as we turn from this natural state, we leap to an anomaly, a state against our nature, thus falling into evil.

-Saint John of Damascus, On the Orthodox Faith

Everyone who has been baptized in Christ’s name has a duty to positively influence the human systems and social structures which divide humanity. To live the baptismal life means daily to wrestle to subject those structures, with all their patterns, to the Gospel, to the will of God. Wherever Christians live and work, we have an extra role to play which is spiritual. As disciples of Christ, our vocation is to be “the salt of the earth” and “the light of the world” (Matthew 5:13-14).

Being few in number is not the problem. Salt is always less than that which must be salted. The real problem is whether the salt retains its savor. The Letter to Diognetos (second century) put it well:

Christians cannot be distinguished from other people, either by territory or by language, or even by race. Nowhere are there cities in which they could live as in their own; nor do they have a separate language they can speak ... Although they are in the flesh, they do not live according to the flesh. Though they sojourn on earth, their citizenship is in heaven. They obey prevailing laws, but by their laws they surpass the laws. They love all and are persecuted by all ... they are poor, yet they enrich many. Christians are to the world what the soul is to the body. As the soul permeates each member of the body, Christians are present in all lands. The soul lives in the body, though it is not of the body. The Christians are also in the world, though they are not of the world.

-Letter to Diognetus

History is not determined by economic forces alone. It is open to the influence and the inspired action of godly men and women. Transfiguring society is our task. We live in an age of accelerating change, yet most changes seem only to make our problems more complex. What is needed is a metamorphosis in the human spirit, and ontological change. Each person, as God’s image, has a part in the task of renewing the face of the earth.

Saint Barbara Greek Orthodox Church

The mission of Saint Barbara Greek Orthodox Church is to safeguard the 2,000 year old Traditions handed down by Christ and His disciples, by encouraging members to participate actively in the Sacramental life of the Church, and by furthering our knowledge of the Faith through education. In order to realize our role as stewards of God's vineyard and to grow spiritually as individuals and as a Parish, we will share our Faith with those who seek the knowledge of God, welcome and embrace all who join us in worship and fellowship, and reach out to those in need. Fulfilling our mission will draw us closer to God and His Kingdom, and allow us to experience the love of God (Agape) in our Parish and community.

President's Report

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

At the January 18 meeting, the Parish Council approved minutes of the December meeting, reviewed the financial reports and received reports from Stewardship, Real Estate, and Rentals Committees as well as, an extensive presentation from Mary Papador Mendoza on the Loyola House and estimates on the proposed renovation to bring the house up to contemporary standards for rental or possible sale. There will be more on this as we move forward.

Thank you to the Daughters of Penelope for donating the beautiful and vibrant Poinsettia plants which adorned the Solea during the Feast Day and Christmas, as well as the melomakarona, which were served at the Saint Barbara Feast Dinner Celebration on December 4th.

Congratulations again to Tom and Sasha Kapernekas on the birth of their baby girl! We are also most pleased to mention that Pres. Mona came through her surgery well and we look forward to seeing her back in church.

We were also sorry to hear that Michael and Kara Osborn will be moving to the Fresno area in the next few months. We will miss Mike and his forward thinking on the PC this past year, as well as, Kara's leadership role with Philoptochos.

I am looking forward to working with all of you as we move forward in 2012

In His service,
Jim Peters

The Presentation of the Lord

February 2nd

On this day the Church commemorates an important event in the earthly life of our Lord Jesus Christ (Luke 2:22-40). Forty days after His birth the God-Infant was taken to the Jerusalem Temple, the center of the nation's religious life. According to the Law of Moses (Leviticus 12:2-8), a woman who gave birth to a male child was forbidden to enter the Temple of God for forty days. At the end of this time the mother came to the Temple with the child, to offer a young lamb or pigeon to the Lord as a purification sacrifice. The Most Holy Virgin, the Mother of God, had no need of purification, since she had given birth to the Source of purity and sanctity without defilement. However, she humbly fulfilled the requirements of the Law.

At this time the righteous Elder Simeon was living in Jerusalem. It had been revealed to him that he would not die until he should behold the promised Messiah. By inspiration from above, Saint Simeon went to the Temple at the very moment when the Most Holy Theotokos and Saint Joseph had brought the Infant Jesus to fulfill the Law.

The God-Receiver Simeon took the divine Child in his arms, and giving thanks to God, he spoke the words repeated by the Church each evening at Vespers: "Now let Your servant depart in peace, O Master, according to Your word, for my eyes have seen Your salvation, which You have prepared before the face of all people, a light to enlighten the Gentiles, and the glory of Your people Israel" (Luke 2:29-32). Saint Simeon said to the Most Holy Virgin: "Behold, this Child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel, and for a sign which shall be spoken against. Yes, a sword shall pierce through your own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed" (Luke 2:34-35).

At the Temple was the 84-year-old widow Anna the Prophetess, daughter of Phanuel, "who did not leave the Temple, but served God with fasting and prayers night and day. She arrived just when Saint Simeon met the divine Child. She also gave thanks to the Lord and spoke of Him to all those who were looking for redemption in Jerusalem" (Luke 2:37-38). In the icon of the Feast she holds a scroll which reads: "This Child has established Heaven and earth."

Before Christ was born, righteous men and women lived by faith in the promised Messiah, and awaited His coming. The Righteous Simeon and the Prophetess Anna, the last righteous people of the Old Testament, were deemed worthy to meet the Savior in the Temple.

The Feast of the Meeting of the Lord is among the most ancient feasts of the Christian Church. We have sermons on the Feast by the holy bishops Methodius of Patara (+ 312), Cyril of Jerusalem (+ 360), Gregory the Theologian (+ 389), Amphilocius of Iconium (+ 394), Gregory of Nyssa (+ 400), and John Chrysostom (+ 407). Despite its early origin, this Feast was not celebrated so splendidly until the sixth century.

In 528, during the reign of Justinian, an earthquake killed many people in Antioch. Other misfortunes followed this one. In 541, a terrible plague broke out in Constantinople, carrying off several thousand people each day. During this time of widespread suffering, a solemn prayer service for deliverance from evils was celebrated on the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord, and the plague ceased. In thanksgiving to God, the Church established a more solemn celebration of this Feast.

Church hymnographers have adorned this Feast with their hymns: Saint Andrew of Crete in the seventh century; Saint Cosmas Bishop of Maium, Saint John of Damascus, and Saint Germanus Patriarch of Constantinople in the eighth century; and Saint Joseph, Archbishop of Thessalonica in the ninth century.

Weekend Chant Workshop led by Dr. Alexander Khalil

The art of psaltiki, also known as "Byzantine chant" has been practiced in the Orthodox church for more than a millennium. Melodies that are sung today in church have been both shaped and preserved by generations of psaltes and are uniquely suited to the rich and varied liturgical life of the church. While this music can be challenging, it is not meant to be solely the domain of virtuoso singers but developed as a practical approach to the liturgical needs of communities large and small.

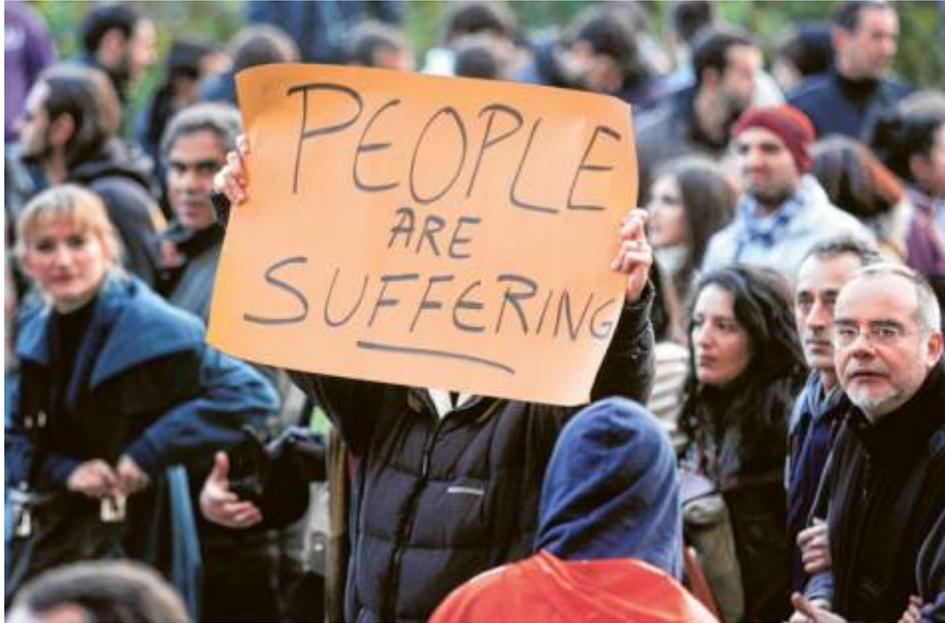

This workshop is meant to provide a foundation for those who practice--or wish to learn--the art of psaltiki, or "Byzantine chant". The class will cover fundamentals of the modal system (ochtoechos, reading psalmodia (the traditional notation system), and technique of chanting. Any level of experience is welcome to participate. All necessary materials will be provided. No knowledge of the Greek language is necessary and the students will have the option of chanting in Greek or English as they wish. Cost for the class is $75/adult; $40/student.

Dr. Khalil is an ethnomusicologist whose doctoral work focused on the tradition of psaltiki at the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. He was trained as a chanter by John Mestakides, former protopsaltis of Jerusalem, and more recently has also studied under the Patriarchal psaltes. He is currently a research fellow in cognitive science at UCSD, where he studies music in the context of cognitive neuroscience.

36th ANNUAL MISSION AWARENESS LUNCHEON
SUNDAY, MARCH 25, 2012
AFTER LITURGY - IN THE ORTHODOX CENTER

Please join us for a delicious luncheon following the Liturgy on Sunday, March 25th.

This year's annual Mission Awareness Luncheon is free. But in order to continue the goals and work of our missionaries and to support the Orthodox orphanages in India, Guatemala, and Albania; we are hoping and praying that those attending will be able to make a generous donation.

Remember $50.00 will help provide milk for 50-60 children and the $100.00 will help feed 100-120 children. Any size donation is greatly appreciated.

One day Mother Theresa was asked how she deals with the pervasive nature of poverty and oppression. She replied simply "One person at a time, one child at a time."

Checks should be made payable to St. Barbara Greek Orthodox Church (please put Mission Luncheon in the memo).

We hope you will be able to attend our 36th annual mission luncheon and support the orphanages of India, Guatemala, and Albania. If you cannot attend, please consider sending a donation anyway. Thank you for supporting these efforts.
